Genre Analysis

After gaining an overall understanding of the movie market, we then move on to the genre analysis. From a film investor's perspective, genre is an important factor because it can reflect audience performance, marketing demand, and commercial potential.

In this session, we examine the market share and release trends of different genres, compare their average popularity, and identify the genres that generate the highest revenue and estimated profit. We also focus on recent performance by analysing the top genres and their best performing movies over past 5 years.

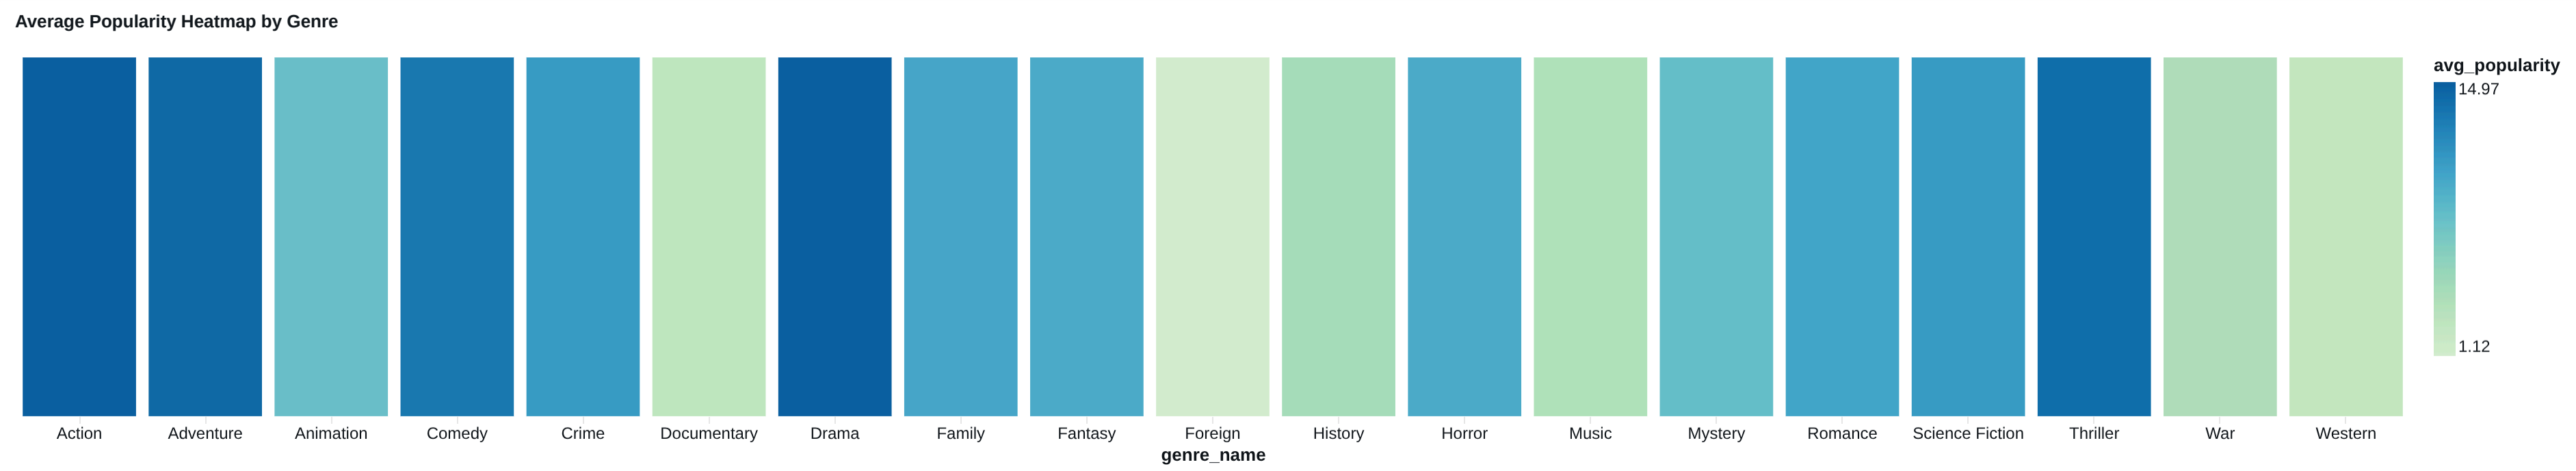

The purpose of this analysis is to identify which genre are not only popular with audiences, but also offer stronger financial opportunities for future investment.
